Notes - from the book "History of Ashburton" by John Brown, Published 1940

- 1870 - cemetery pegged out by Mr C.E. Fooks
- 3 May 1870 - management was entrusted by the P.W. Dept to Ashburton Road Board
- Sept 1871 - cemetery fenced by William Turton & John Rapley
- Burials - 7 Dec 1871 - Captain McLEAN, a 45 and later his wife, Janet
- 6 Nov 1872 - Charles GREENSTREET, a 42
- 10 May 1873 - James BLAND, accidentally drowned, a 55, and his wife
- end of May 1873 - Archibald McMurdo THOMSON, a 57

- the cemetery appears to have closed soon after the opening of the "new" Ashburton Public Cemetery c. 1879.

The transcript which follows is a list of those names appearing on the memorial at the cemetery site. These names appear to have been taken from the old headstones removed from the site.

Names marked + appear in the burial register, which also lists other names not engraved on the memorial.

Erected to the memory of the early settlers of the Ashburton district, laid to rest in this reserve.
